

Direct Object Pronouns

1. La and las refer to a _____ noun.
a. masculine                      b. feminine                      c. feline
2. Lo and los refer to a _____ noun.
a. masculine                      b. feminine                      c. mammal
3. We use nos when referring to:
a. them                      b. him                      c. us
4. Ella la patea. What is she kicking?
a. unas gatitas                      b. una pelota                      c. un triángulo
5. Which one would be used when referring to the noun regalos?
a. las                      b. me                      c. los
6. We use te when referring to:
a. us                      b. you                      c. me
7. La mostaza las rompe. What is the mustard ripping?
a. unas cartas de amor                      b. unos vestidos                      c. a los Simpson
8. Which one would be used when referring to the noun gallina?
a. la                      b. lo                      c. te
9. El hombre lobo _____ ataca. (gallinas)
a. la                      b. los                      c. las
10. Juan _____ usa para escribir. (bolígrafos)
a. la                      b. los                      c. las

O to UE Stem Changing Verbs

1. If you circle all of the conjugations that change in an O to UE stem changing verb, it forms a _____.
a. fish                                      b. bowling ball                                      c. boot
2. The conjugations that do not change in an O to UE stem changing verb are _____.
a. nosotros/vosotros                                      b. tú/yo                                      c. ellos/él
3. Yo _____.
a. vuela                                      b. vuelo                                      c. vuelas
4. _____ cuelgan de un helicóptero.
a. Tú                                      b. Yo                                      c. Ellos
5. In which of these countries would you most likely hear vosotros?
a. France                                      b. Spain                                      c. Colombia
6. Which conjugation is correct?
a. Yo soñamos.                                      b. Ellos sueña.                                      c. Ellas sueñan.
7. Él _____ la silla.
a. mueve                                      b. movemos                                      c. mueven
8. _____ encontráis un melón.
a. Nosotros                                      b. Ustedes                                      c. Vosotras
9. Tú _____ por una hamburguesa. (rogar)
a. ruego                                      b. ruegas                                      c. rogáis
10. The proper yo conjugation of dormir is _____.
a. dormimos                                      b. duermes                                      c. duermo